First edition of the new DEA Magazine

New DEA Magazine for employees, former employees and friends of DEA scheduled for first-ever release today

From today, hot off the press and available in PDF format: the new DEA Magazine for staff, former employees and external partners. The aim is to share exciting current events with interested persons and raise their enthusiasm for them.

“The Magazine will enable us to present more detailed facts and circumstances and to provide background information and a little insight into our Company,” says Thomas Rappuhn, CEO of DEA Deutsche Erdoel AG.

“Embracing the future” runs the focal point of the first edition, in which the strategy, current and planned projects but also the development of the oil price or political discussions are addressed and dealt with.

The content is rounded off by features, portraits, background stories and interviews such as with Lord Browne, Chairman of the Supervisory Board of DEA Deutsche Erdoel AG, who describes the plans of LetterOne and DEA’s decisive role in the process.
