DEA publishes Sustainability Report 2016

How the principles of sustainability are reflected in the business activities of DEA Deutsche Erdoel AG is documented in the current sustainability report with a comprehensive overview of DEA's fields of action including occupational health and safety, environmental protection, employees, corporate citizenship and management systems. DEA has reduced the environmental impacts of its individual activities to the absolute minimum by planning and implementing its projects in a consistent and environmentally sound manner. In 2015, about €85 million were invested in environmental protection measures to ensure that oil and gas are produced in a responsible, environmentally sound and safe manner.
